HIGH ? TIME

You, like a million others who'll buy a car this year, will probably spread the purchase price over a period of months... buy it "on time".

That gives us, as reputable factory-appointed new car dealers, another chance to serve you well. For the purchase price itself becomes a "commodity" when you finance. In other words, you've got to buy the money to buy your car.

And we... charged with a very real community responsibility... are honor-bound to make, in your behalf, the best possible financing arrangements.

We want you to know that we recognize that responsibility—and accept that challenge. We want to point out, too, for your protection that your responsibility for driving SAFETY demands that your car be mechanically checked regularly.
